THE ELIXIR OF LIFE.

Dr. W. A. Hammond Believes in Brown-Sequard's Theory.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN MONTREAL

Washington, Aug. 1.—Dr. William A.
Hammond, of this city, is experimenting with the clixir of life recently discovered by Dr. Brown-Sequand, of Paris, and thus far he says the results are fully equal to promises given out by the great Paris physician. Hammond was sitting on the physician. Hammond was string on the serandah of the fine new hospital he has just built outside of the city limits when the World correspondent called on him hast night. "It is true," said the doctor, "that when Dr. Brown Sequard's discovery was first reported to the American people by the World I was rather dubious and inclined moreor less to think as other and an another and the report was either a French joke or that Dr. Brown-Sequard was 'another good man gone wrong.'
The first report did not give a complete idea of the treatment. competes ties of the treatment it indicated rather that the clixir was a compound made from various plands from various animals, and on that showing I was willing to say the thing was impossible, but when I obtained further and more accurate details from the Wiest itself, and from French medical journals, I was willing to believe there might be something in 1. I was willing at all events to put it to the test, and about a week ago i stated to experiment. Brown-Sequard uses only selected portions of the testicles of the rabitor guizara pig, simply because, I sampose, those are the animals upon which experime ts are usually made in French laboratories, but I have adopted lamb, which is better. The lamb, you know, is an animal soud to eat, but we don't eat guinea pigs. The proparation of medicine and the creatment of the patient are very simple. I take selected portions of a lamb freshly dilled and pound it into a pulp in a mertar. With this I mix a beaspoonful or two of water, and the result if filter through fine Swiiss filtering paper. A fluid slightly thicker than waber comes through perfectly pure and limpid. The filtering mast be carefully done for if my shred or part of the pulp were injected under a patient's skin, it would form abscesses and do harm. The extract from a single lamb will be sufficient for a dozon injections. It does not matter to what part of the body application is made, but the most conventualized is made, but the most conventualized is made, but the most conventualized is and, but the most conventualized is wall to experience the skin of the force and where the skin is comparatively slack, and it weald and the skin of the force and where the skin is comparatively slack, and it weald and the skin of the force and where the skin is comparatively slack, and it weald and the skin is comparatively slack. it indicated rather that the clixir was a the killing of the animal. The lajection of blood and of the juico of beef into wasted

saffents has been common for many years, ad it is well known that to inject the

"As soon as the lamb is slaughtered by the butcher no time is wasted in nounding

killing of the lamb the juleo is circulating
through the patient's coins and mingling

"I began experiments first on myself to assure myself that it was not dangerous to patients. Since then I have applied the slikir to several gentlemen without their knowing what it was. One man, about sixty years old, had his arm so nearly paralleled in the meaning that the property of the page. sknowing what it was. One marry parsixty years old, had his arm so nearly paralyzed with rheumatism that for nearly a year he could not raise his hand to his head.
Soon after the clivic was injected into his arm he was able to wield it in any direction, and almost as vigorously as be had ever done. Up to the present my experiments have been made without the patient's knowledge, but to morrow I am going to begen treating a man in this way at his own request. Of courselt is too early yet to draw any sweeping conclusions from the costils obtained, but as far as I have gone the results are certainly remarkable. When cosmiss obtained, but as rais I have good the results are certainly remarkable. When I have continued my experiments longer I shall be able to draw conclusions with more confidence. Brown-Sequard's calculation is that an injection once a month will suffice to keep a man twenty or thirty years younger than he really is."

Great Excitement in Montreal.

New York, Aug. 1.—A special from outreal says: The city is in a perfect erors of excitement over the seizure of se schooner Black Diamond. Expressions are heard on every hand that unless the are mart on every hand that mines the vessel is released and full indemnity paid by the United States, the government must stand the consequence of what may follow. There is almost as much disgust at the action of England in this business, and if she will not help Canada to upheld her honor, it is openly hinted that the sooner Canada takes the defense of that hunor in the naw hands the better. Both morning Canaga takes the defense of that some in her own hands the bester. Both morning papers publish long leaders demanding prompt action by England or our own government to provent these science, or class break off relations with the United States until a final settlement of the ras taken before Judge O'Brien in the upreme court this noon and through his counsel admitted that he was the person called for in the writ of extradition. Ha said he was willing to go south, and the judge ordered that he be turned over at once to Deputy Sheriff Childs, of Jackson, Mississippi.

Mississippi.
Counsel Nicell informed the judge that before the arrest was made Sullivan had made up his mind to go back voluntarily and surrender himself to the authorities of Mississippi, feeling confident that he would be justly and fairly dealt with He further said that when Sullivan engred into the compact to fight direct her would have been in Leuisiana Not from the control of the control shurain be understood that the buttle ground would have been in Louisiana. Not before the fight was a charity of ground made to Mississippi, and Sullivan did not really know until the ring side was reached that he was in Mississippi, and Sullivan did not really know until the ring side was reached that he was in Mississippi, the did not whange the ground and he had no intention of uresking the law, but he had no alternative but to fight or become a poltroon. Sullivan is now willing to go back in company with Deputy Sheriff Childs as soon as that officer deaires. The assistant district attorney took receipts from the dupty sheriff for the body of John L. Sullivan, who was then handed into his custody. Sullivan will leave for Mississippi to high.

All the fight seemed to have gone out of sullivan when he reached headquarters spain after his surrender in court. Said he:

"If I had known there was a law against fighting in Mississippi I would not have fought there. I would not have made myself liable to arrest. Well, I will go back and take my medicine." He chewed the ond of a cigar awhile and continued. "Any how, I would have fought that fellow Kilrain, I was goaled to it. The whole gang would have walked all over me if I had not licked him. I suppose I'm the scapegoat now for doing it and Kilrain will so free, poor fellow! but they don't want him; he was licked in three quarters of an hour." On Sullivan's arrival at headquarters he said he was ready for his trip and the police board granted six days' leave of absence to Detective Sergi. Adams to go along with him to Hichburg. Sullivan after shaking hands with Inspector Byrnes was transferred to the keeping of Agent Childs, of Mississippi, who made out a receipt for his live stock as follows: "Received from inspector Thomas Byrnes the body of John L. Sullivan sutrendered under order of the surpreme court.

(Signed) L. C. Chitus, Agent." At 3 o'clock the party, accompanied by Mike Cleary and William Muidoon, started for the Vanderbill hotel, where they packed up Sullivan's clothes in preparation for the journey.

Now that Sullivan is sure to go to Mississippi quite a number of his friends and backers in this town are growing worried over the situation of affairs. The fate of Sullivan may be their fate before many new moons are seen, and they are wondering what the next move of Governor Lowry will be. They are at present an unbappy lot of sporting men. New If, according to this law, it is possible to extra dite Sullivan, it is equally easy to scarre possession of the bodies of William Muidoon, Pat Martin, his brother Mike, and a man who called himself P S. Trout, State Agent Childs and detective Sergeant Adams, who made up the company.

a policy of reprisal is founded on the fact that government is not disposed to recognize American pretensions in Behring sea, but it will have to acquiesce in the course taken by the imperial authorities. No word has been received from England on the subject, but it is believed that Lord Stanley is in constant communication with Lord Salisbury.

There was a terrible epidemic of dysen-tery and bloody flux in Pope county, Illi-nois, last summer. As many as five deaths nois, last summer. As many as five deaths occurred in one day. Messrs. Walter Brothers, of Waltersburg, sold over three hundred and eightly bottles of Chamber lain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy during this epidemic and say they never heard of its failing in any case when the directions were followed. It was the only medicine used that did cure the worst cases. Many persons were cured by it after the doctors had given them up. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by Z. C. M. BOULANGER ISSUES A MANIFESTO.

Sexton's Harrison Letter Emperor William at Dover The Dow Law Dr. Tanner's Case A Runaway Husband-Fugitive Caught.

Special to Tax Hanand-Examiner Dispatch. New York, Aug. 1.—Ex-Secretary Whitney telegraphs from Lenox to the World as follows: "An item is going the rounds of the press to the effect that a new rounds of the press to the effect that a new weekly newspaper is about to be established at Washington in my interest as a candidate for the presidency. Be kind enough to published that it is absolutely without foundation. I am not and shall not be a candidate for momination to that office, nor to any other. There are men in the Democratic party much better entitled to its honor than I am and I expect to help the best man to win. The item is absurd on its face and I object to being thought capable of such nonsense.

Boulanger Issues a Manifesto,

Romanger Issues a Manfeste.

Loxboon, Aug. I.—Boulanger has lasted amanifeste in which he attributes his defeat in the elections for the councils genoral Saturday last to additions of local candidates. He declares that he is consident of the result of the decitions in France for members of the chamber of deputies.

Pants, Aug. I. Political circles here re-gard the manifesto of Boulanger as weak, and as not likely to improve his position.

Remotes, of San Francisco, has been in New York is weeks booking for her can away husband who left her the past January, taking two of the children with him. He came to New York nominally to look after some property which he alloged a wealthy relative had left him. For three months past Mrs. Branden has heard nothing of his whereabouts, and is he has leadly become convinced that he intended to desert her.

Mrs. Heranden's story is interesting. She had followed her recreant husband across two continents. Both are Australians and were married in Sydney ten years ago Four griss were born to them. A year age Branden sold out his business in Sydney and moved to San Francisco. Soon after his wife joined him; her brother accompanied her and the children. Since he came to New York Branden has written to his wife several times, in his last letter telling her he was probably going to Wales. His wife has found out that her husband lived for some time at No. 104 West Thirty seventh street, under the name of Seely, and also at the Cosmopolitan hotel. She thinks he is still in the city and has enlisted the services of the police to help her find him. All she says she wants is her children.
